The reversible seed stitch stripes are back again. This great one-row-to-remember pattern is used to create a not-too-big, not-too-small, easy-to-care-for blanket. It is fun to knit and makes a great gift. This pattern also works in Tatamy Tweed.

Pattern Introduction
For this pattern we have a one row pattern that is repeated over and over, great for a take-it-with project. This pattern works because it is over an odd number of stitches. We repeat the three stripes 12 times and then add the far side boarder. I will admit it, I love seed stitch so here it is:

Seed stitch is :
Row 1: K1, P1, K1, P1, K1
Row 2: K1, P1, K1, P1, K1
When you look at your work, if the stitch on your lhn is a Purl stitch, you will Knit it. If the stitch on your lhn is a Knit stitch, you will Purl it. By doing seed stitch over an odd number of stitches you can repeat the same row over and over, for 35 inches. Let's get started.

Pattern
CO 185 sts.
Knit one inch of seed stitch starting with a K1 and ending with a K1.
After one inch begin pattern.
* K1, P1, K1, P1, K1, P5, K5, repeat from * 11 more times, ending K1, P1, K1, P1, K1.
Repeat this row until piece measures 35".
Knit one inch seed stitch beginning and ending with a K1 then bind off loosely. Weave in ends. Wash on gentle and block out flat to dry.
When dry, fold it up and throw it in your go bag for whenever you need to comfort your little one.
