Knit for Baby Sweater

by Judy Head

The asymmetrical front adds interest to this T-shaped baby sweater and the easy shape allows room for a growing baby. The entire sweater is worked in Garter Stitch. Tatamy is an inexpensive and easy care yarn with a great range of color choices. The sweater is shown on 2 month old David.

Pattern Notes:

kfb: Increasing by knitting in the front of a stitch and then knitting in the back of the same stitch.

Buttonhole Row: K 4 sts, BO 4 sts, and continue across row.

Return Buttonhole Row: K until reaching buttonhole, CO 4 sts to span the buttonhole. Continue row.

Right Side of the sweater is the baby's right arm and is the wide side of the front.

Left Side of the sweater is the baby's left arm and is the narrow side of the front.

Back: Two rows makes 1 ridge, which makes it easy to count rows.

- K 50 [60] rows for back.

Cast On for Sleeves:

- K across row and CO 30 [34] sts at the end of the row for first sleeve.

Next row begins at the cuff of the sleeve.

Left Front:

- Row 2: K.

Repeat these rows 2 [3] times more.

Begin at cuff of sleeve:

- K across row. CO 3 [5] sts at neck edge.
- K until left sleeve is 80 (90) rows from sleeve CO. BO 30 [34] sts for sleeve.

Finishing:

Sew side and underarm seams using the Mattress stitch. The sleeves may be folded up to fit a younger baby, so keep the seams as neatly as possible. Securely sew 2 buttons on left front, correspond to the buttonholes approx. ¾" from the edge. Please take care to choose and sew buttons securely, with safety in mind.
